PRESIDENT STICKS
TO HANDS-OFF POLICY

Confirmation of Fall of Torreon
With Heavy Loss—Federals
Make a Borrow

WASHINGTON, July 24.—It was learned authoritatively today the President is unalterably opposed to intervention in Mexico except as a last resort. He believes the differences of the warring factions there are not irreconcilable, and hopes to persuade the rival leaders into a conference.

It is claimed here all private dispatches to the state department from Mexico indicate that the rank and file are weary of the strife and are ready to get together if fair terms of settlement are offered. The dispatches indicate, however, that conditions generally are unchanged. There is little information available as to which side is winning.

Following President Wilson's conference Saturday with Ambassador Wilson he will call the house and senate leaders for another conference, in which he will outline his position and ask their support. He expects further definite information on Mexican conditions before Saturday.

It is understood here that if the Constitutionalists overthrow Huerta they plan to make Francisco de la Barra provisional president, with Governor Carranza as senator, and leading the rebellion as a candidate for president at the October elections.

Following a conference with the president, Senator Bacon, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, confirmed the report that no definite announcement of the administration's policy will be made until Ambassador Wilson reports Saturday. Asked regarding the reports that America would offer an attempt to reconcile the opposing factions and might forbid either side importing arms or ammunition from the United States, Bacon said that he had plans had been suggested, and added:

"The mediation proposition comes from many sources. America doesn't desire to intervene unless it becomes absolutely necessary, and wishes to back any plan by which peace may be restored without additional bloodshed."

Senators Kern, Tillman, Swanson, Martin and Shields also called at the White House this afternoon. It is understood they were informed by the president that he believes public discussion of the Mexican situation at this time is unwise. He fears garbled reports of the administration's attitude may be sent out.

The war department today denied persistent reports that it is planning to mobilize the army. Acting Secretary Breckenridge said he knew nothing of a message reported to have been sent to National Guard officers inquiring if the states' troops were prepared for action.

BYRAN FOR HEAD OF MEDIATION COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Secretary Bryan may go to Mexico City at the head of the American mediation commission. It was learned tonight that Chairman Flood of the house, and Bacon of the senate foreign affairs committee are considering the proposition. Bryan refused to deny that the plan had been suggested. Flood and Bacon refused to discuss the matter.

VILLA MAKING UP

TO UNITED STATES
EL PASO, Tex., July 24.—Reports received at the local Mexican rebel junta state that Pancho Villa has started south with his rebel command to relieve the Americans at Madera. Madera the attack on Juarez is given up.

Villa, it is said, hopes to win recognition for the rebels from the United States government by protecting its citizens. Reports in El Paso yesterday were that two Americans, who were going across country, have been arrested and detained by the federalists at Chihuahua. W. W. Stewart, manager of the Parral Light & Power Co., and A. J. McWaters, a mining man also of Parral, recently left El Paso for Parral overland and are the only Americans known to have been traveling in that section.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Apprehensive of the early downfall of the Huerta administration, arrangements are being made for the return of Americans in Mexico who wish to leave the country for the United

Chief Witness Against Bixby Has Disappeared

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—Cleo Helen Barker, the chief witness against George H. Bixby, the Long Beach multi-millionaire, charged with contributing to her delinquency, has disappeared, according to statements of the probation officers. The girl was paroled by the probation officers into the custody of her parents and taken to a ranch near Claremont. Her mother yesterday telegraphed the probation officers that the girl had disappeared and was believed to be on a train for Los Angeles. Officers met the train, but the girl evidently left the train at an intervening station or in the suburbs. Several detectives are working with the probation officers in an effort to locate her.

By Dynamite Explosion
MONTREAL, July 24.—Seven men were blown to atoms at Beloit by the explosion of a ton of dynamite at the Canadian Powder Co. plant.

SENATE PAGES MUST

WHISTLE FOR THEIR PAY

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Sixteen pages of the Senate are today working "for love," but they have hopes of financial remuneration later. Congress failed to make provision in the appropriation bill for paying the pages during the special session of congress after July 1, and the boys have not yet received their pay envelopes which should have been their July 15. Some of the boys are getting "hard up."

RAILROADS PROTEST— ON BURLESON ORDER

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Representatives of the railroads yesterday formally protested to the Interstate Commerce Commission against the increase of size of parcel post packages as proposed in the extension of the service by Postmaster General Burleson, on the ground that it would cost the railroads $20,000,000 of revenue they now receive from express companies.

States. Funds will be supplied to those who are unable to pay their own way back to their own homes in this country. The state department was advised today that about 100 refugees have been sent from Tampico to Galveston on the steamship Texas, which is due at Galveston the latter part of this week.

MEXICO HAS BORROWED

TWENTY MILLION PESOS
MEXICO CITY, July 24.—The latest reports from the front confirm the report of the capture of Torreon by General Carranza and the constitutionalists, following a crushing defeat of the federalists. General Alvarez, the federal commander, was killed early in the engagement. A thousand government troops with cannon were captured. The rebel victory is reported to have been made possible by defections in the federal ranks. It is reported that 5000 rebels are advancing on San Luis Potosi, where a decisive clash is expected.

The minister of finance announced today that the government has succeeded in borrowing twenty million pesos from a Paris bank.

MOVING DIRT ON HAVENER AGAIN THE HIGHWAY SYSTEM ENGAGES IN SMASH

C. E. Chamberlain's Men Begun Work at West Fifth Street Bridge Yesterday

GET MATERIAL FROM PLANT NEAR AZUSA

County's Rock Crusher Ready in About a Month—Inspectors Named

Yesterday actual construction of the Orange County $1,270,000 highway system began when men working for C. E. Chamberlain began building the approaches to the West Fifth street bridge. About twenty teams are at work. Chamberlain has the contract for building five and a quarter miles of paved road on the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach road.

D. A. Doughtonville of Los Angeles will assemble his men and outfits near the Orangeflower road, and will probably commence work Saturday of this week or Monday of next week. He will build three and a quarter miles on the Orangeflower road running west from the main traveled road between Fullerton and Anaheim.

Rock and gravel for these two jobs will be shipped in from The Pacific Rock & Gravel Co. plant near Azusa. The county's rock crusher will not be in operation probably for a month. It is located in the Santiago creek bed near McPherson.

The county's gravel lease at that point is conveniently located for the construction of the Tustin-Orange road, a contract for which will be let on July 29, probably to G. S. Benson & Sons, the lowest bidder. The contractor must haul the gravel for this job from the creek bed.

W. S. Decker of Santa Ana is the County Highway Commission's inspector on the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach job, and Edwin Hedstrom of Anaheim is inspector on the Orangeflower job.

TURKISH PROGRESS SERIOUS MENACE TO EUROPEAN PEACE

VIENNA, July 24.—Dispatches say the Turks have invaded Bulgaria proper, marching toward Jamboli. It is further reported that there is a great troop movement in Southern Russia. Belief is general that the latter move is for the coercion of Turkey, and the next forty-eight hours may witness the starting of a conflagration in the Balkans bearing its flag on the general peace of Europe. Bucharest dispatches indicate that Rumania may be acting with Russia to prevent Turkish aggression.

TWO BADLY HURT IN MOTORCYCLE SMASH

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—One man may die and another is seriously injured as the result of an unusual motorcycle accident at Twenty-sixth street and Central avenue yesterday afternoon. W. A. Estes, 29 years old, and Raymond Jenkins, 21, both of Watts, were riding on a motorcycle.

When turning the corner the machine skidded and both were thrown to the pavement. An auto truck ran into the men and added to their injuries.

Both were taken to the receiving hospital. Estes is injured internally and may die. Jenkins' left leg is broken and he is otherwise injured.

GUNBOAT WILL CROSS PACIFIC IN SECTIONS

VALLEJO, Cal., July 24.—The new gunboat Calos, now being built at Mare Island Navy Yard, is to be shipped across the Pacific ocean crated in sections—knocked down—and will be reassembled at Cavite, P. I. Orders were received at the navy yard yesterday to have the vessel ready for shipment by November 7, and a sister vessel, also to be turned out from Mare Island Navy Yard, the Monocacy, is to be shipped in December. The two are small light draught craft and are designed for river service in the far east.

JULIAN HAWTHORNE MAY GET A PAROLE

ATLANTA, Ga., July 24.—The federal parole board, which convened here today is expected within the next few days to render a decision on the request made by Julian Hawthorne, son of the famous American author, for a parole. Hawthorne is serving a term of a year and a day for fraudulent stock operations.

Man Who Drove in Front of Engine at Orange Hit Auto from Rear Today

MACHINE BUMPED BUMPS ANOTHER

Man Who Runs Auto 'Bus Line Severely Criticised by Those Who Saw Accident

A double-play automobile collision was pulled off on Main street just north of Fourth this morning by Crist Havener of Orange. The stunt came within six inches of being a triple play. Havener with three passengers in his auto 'bus bumped into the rear end of B. F. Hahn's auto 'bus, shoved Hahn's machine ahead several feet into the rear of T. A. Magee's machine, and Magee's machine was rolled along to within a few inches of another machine that stood in front of him.

Havener has distinguished himself as an unsafe driver before. A few days ago he drove an automobile on to the Santa Fe tracks at Orange after he had been told that a train was coming, and the automobile was turned over on top of Havener and four men who were passengers in his machine. Nothing but great good luck prevented serious injuries and deaths in that escapade of the driver of the fast-flying passenger service.

There has been a great deal of criticism of Havener's driving. Many people who have ridden with him have declared him both reckless and ignorant. This morning's accident set the talk to going again, and a number of experienced automobile men who saw the double-play collision were pronounced in their denunciations that Havener ought to be prohibited from driving an automobile, and especially from carrying passengers.

Here is what happened this morning. Havener came from the north on Main street with three passengers in his machine. This machine is not the one concerned in the wreck at Orange. It is still in the repair shop. The passengers were not the same, for none of the four men who bucked up against the Santa Fe at Orange is going to trust himself to Havener again—not if he knows it. However, it was the same Havener. Havener drove to the intersection and turned northward. He killed his engine in the middle of Fourth street. It was his intention to stop beside the curb in front of Wilson's cigar stand. He had plenty of room to do so, if he had kept his machine under control. Lined up beside the curb was Hahn's passenger-carrying machine, and in front of Hahn was an automobile in which T. A. Magee was sitting.

After the engine was killed, it was again started with the gear in the low. The automobile headed for the position beside the curb. The gear was not thrown out by the driver. There came a crash. Havener's machine hit the rear of Hahn's machine, and Hahn's machine bumped into the rear of Magee's machine, and Magee's machine almost hit the rear of another machine.

After the crash, a by-stander turned the button and stopped the engine. He says the gear was in the low at that time.

Damages: Havener has one light smashed, a fender slightly twisted and a bumper bent considerably; machine taken to shop for repairs. Hahn has tail-light smashed, fender bent and spring slightly jammed. Magee has back of one fender bent slightly.

When Havener came to a sudden stop with his engine still going and the lever in the low, the rear axle was put out of commission.

MINING CAMP IS WIPED OUT BY FLOOD

RENO, July 24.—Dungen, Nev., a mining camp near Winnemucca, was practically wiped out Tuesday by a waterspout, which sent a wall of water down the canyon five feet high. The Dungen hotel, which was closed, and half a dozen dwellings, were washed away. A score of lives were endangered, but none lost. Three cows were drowned. The total damage is estimated at $10,000, which includes the loss of $8000 in mill concentrates by the H. C. Ooster mill.

Nevada experienced the worst summer storms in years yesterday, and last night it was announced that no trains from the West will go through on the Southern Pacific except the Goldfield local, which comes to the main line west of Washouts at Golconda and Palisade. Train No. 19 came in eighteen hours late yesterday afternoon, as the third section of train No. 5, which was six hours late. A washout thirty feet wide and

ONLY SIMPLE JUSTICE ASKED BY CALIFORNIA SAYS SENATOR WORKS

State's Industries Must Have Tariff Protection to Survive—Deplores Executive Influence in Congress

WASHINGTON, July 24.—"No special consideration for the people of California; simply justice," was the demand of Senator Works on the floor of the senate in discussing the Underwood tariff today. He declared the lemon industry must have protection to survive. He explained that California produces two and a half million boxes of lemons annually, and can easily develop the industry to ten million.

Works produced statistics showing that lemons cost the California grower or delivered in the eastern market $2.72 per box, while the Italian product can be delivered in the same market for $1.21. He discussed the effect of the tariff on olive oil, walnuts and other California products. Dismissing, he admitted President Wilson's good intention in the tariff matter, but deplored the executive influence on congress in the framing of the measure.

Senator Works said in part: "There is another phase of the question that, to my mind, is more serious and threatening than the enactment of an ill-considered and injurious tariff law. It is the influence of the executive branch of the government and the secret caucus in the framing and enactment of the laws of the country."

"I don't believe that if it were not for the influence of the executive branch of the government, directed at the law-making power, and the coercive effect of secret political caucuses, the passage of this bill through either branch of congress would have been possible. I take it for granted that this bill will pass this body substantially as it was framed in advance. This, as it was framed in advance, this, if new-paper accounts are to be credited, was done by a committee of Democrats and a Democratic president, with the mutual agreement or concurrence of the two."

"It has been asserted and has been very generally believed that the president insisted that certain provisions should go into the bill, and that other of its provisions are a compromise of views as between the president and Democratic members of the committee."

"So in any comments I may make on this phase of the question, I will assume that the president of the United States aided in framing the bill and is using his powerful influence to have it passed in the form approved by him, and known to have his approval. Added to this comes the political caucus that adopts the bill in the form desired by the president. The bill, as thus endorsed, is not satisfactory to many even of the dominant party."

"Thus we have a bill agreed upon and marked for final passage, upon consideration only by a few men of one party, concurred in by the president, acting with representatives of this one party. This comes in part from the pernicious doctrine that the president is the leader of his party instead of, or as well as, the president of the whole people. The two are utterly inconsistent when it comes to the making of laws. Having committed himself to the measure in advance, we hear of the remarkable spectacle of distinguished members of this body of twelve feet deep occurred at Golconda. On the Nevada, California, Oregon line, forty miles north of Reno, three feet of water accumulated in five minutes and a washout occurred delaying trains over twenty-four hours. The Western Pacific lines are tied up by the land slides. Sixty-five hundredths of an inch of rain fell in Reno yesterday morning in twenty minutes. The rain has eliminated danger of crop shortage on the Fallon government project which caused much anxiety.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN IS HONORED BY F. F. V'S

RICHMOND, Va., July 24.—Mrs. Virginia Lee Boyce of No. 426 East Virginia street, Santa Barbara, Cal., is named one of the members of the council of ten of the order of the First Families of Virginia, just chartered here "for the purpose of promoting historical, biographical and genealogical research concerning Virginia history, from 1607 to 1820, when Virginia was the only one of the original thirteen colonies."

Heading the order is Mrs. H. L. Cook of Milwaukee, with the title of governor-general. The next ranking officer is Owen Gathright of Louisville, styled lieutenant-governor. Mrs. W. Roy McCanne of Rochester, N. Y., is just plain secretary-treasurer, with no title attached.

STANDARD OIL PAYS HALF MILLION FINE

AUSTIN, Tex., July 24.—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey turned into the state treasury here today $500,000 in cash in payment of the fine imposed against it by the state of Texas by compromise agreement for violating the anti-trust laws. The sum was made up of $450,000 in currency and $50,000 in gold.

RIOTS START IN MINERS' STRIKE

Sheriff Has Asked For 2000 Militiamen

Calumet in Hands of Armed Mob and All Business Suspended

LANSING, Mich., July 24.—Telegram received here from Sheriff Crane of Houghton county, say he is in the hands of 500 striking copper miners, and another mob of 500 is approaching.

Crane has asked for 2000 militia, saying that force is necessary to keep the peace. A thousand deputies have been sworn in but these are insufficient. Crane says 20,000 men are idle and serious rioting is certain.

Calumet messages say that town is in the hands of a mob of armed men. All business is suspended. Hundreds of armed strikers are flocking to the city. A mob of strikers forcibly disarmed fifty deputies of their stars. Many have been injured, according to the latest dispatch.

MINOR DISTURBANCES

OCURRED LAST NIGHT
CALUMET, Mich., July 24.—Minor disorders were reported today from a dozen points in the copper country affected by the strike of 15,000 miners. The miners claim they were locked out as a result of the struggle between the mine operators and the Western Federation of Miners. Mine guards have been doubled. There was considerable rioting throughout the night, several mobs attacking non-unionists. The miners claim to have the promise of support from the American Federation of Labor.

Gen. Abbey to Investigate

KALAMAZOO, July 24.—Brigadier-General Abbey, commanding the state militia, has started for Lansing for an investigation in response to an urgent message from Governor Ferris.

TWENTY-NINE BODIES RECOVERED SO FAR

Death List in Binghamton May Go Over Sixty—Few Are Identified

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 24.—At noon twenty-nine bodies had been recovered from the ruins of the overall factory here, in which probably sixty-five girls were burned to death. The official known death list is forty-four. Practically all are unidentified.

District Attorney F. J. Meagher announced today that a thorough investigation would be made as to the cause of the disaster and to determine the responsibility for the loss of life.

Mayor Irving will issue a proclamation calling on the citizens of Binghamton for a general observance of a day to be set apart for the funeral of the victims. As many of the bodies are unrecognizable, a public funeral will be conducted by the city and the unknown dead will be buried in a plot on which a shaft will be erected.

MEMORIAL TABLET FOR CAPT. SCOTT IN FRENCH ALPS

PARIS, July 24.—A memorial tablet honoring the memory of Captain Scott, who lost his life after reaching the South Pole, is shortly to be unveiled in the Lauteret Pass, in the French Alps. The plan was given the official sanction of President Poincare and his cabinet today. It was in the Lauteret Pass that the famous British explorer tested his motor sledges before setting out on the journey that ended in his death.

GERMANS BEGGED TO

EAT GERMAN OYSTERS

BERLIN, July 24.—A patriotic public appeal was formally made throughout the German Empire today asking all Germans to cultivate the habit of eating German oysters instead of the English and Dutch varieties. The appeal was made through the government fishery office. The appeal sets forth that the "Royal Prussians" grown in the government beds of Schleswig-Holstein, are in every respect as toothsome and wholesome as their more popular foreign rivals.

CHEAP MONEY FOR FARMERS

Scheme Outlined Which Should Result in Great Development of Central Valleys

SACRAMENTO, July 24.—Harris Weinstein, who is in Europe investigating rural credits, has outlined a scheme which he says promises to give California farmers cheap money based on farm mortgages, and particularly will aid colonists to secure their own homes.

In a letter to Gov. Johnson, copies of which are in the hands of E. R. Lillenthal and Albert Bonheim of this city, Weinstein reports the findings of his tour. He recommends the use of a modified form of the "Kredit Verein system" in vogue in Wuertemberg for eighty-five years. This is the report upon which action is nearly certain to be taken by the Sacramento Valley capitalists.

If the scheme outlined by Weinstein is carried out, and Johnson expects it will be, the huge reclamation projects in this valley, which will place more than a half-million of acres upon the market within the next four years, will become the sites of numerous villages. Sturdy peasantry from Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Italy and France will engage in independent farming on tracts sold under an amortization or delayed payment plan. By the original investment of only 29 per cent of the value of the land, they will secure acreage on land which rivals the valley of the Nile in fertility. From ten to fifty years for final payment will be allowed.

Lured by low traveling cost, which the opening of the Panama canal will make possible, myriads of Europeans, as well as many Americans from the Middle West, are expected to swarm to California. Europeans are already familiar with the rural credit systems, which have been in vogue for eighty-five years in some trans-Atlantic countries. By these schemes the peasants of those realms have been enabled to become freeholders, and the systems are therefore much in favor.

In brief, the scheme for the adoption of which Weinstein pleads, is the formation of a co-operative and mutual association, backed by the bankers of the section and carried on under the supervision of the state. The objects are (a) to obtain cheap money on long-term payments for the American farmer, and (b) to make it possible for a tenant farmer or farm laborer with very little capital, to become a farm owner.

JESSIE R. GRANT, SON OF PRESIDENT, SUES FOR DIVORCE

GOLDFIELD, Nev., July 24.—Jesse R. Grant, son of President Grant, brother of U. S. Grant, Jr., whose second marriage took place in Southern California last week, filed suit for divorce in the district court yesterday.

Grant has resided in Goldfield for over six months and has made many friends in the camp during his residence here. His headquarters have been at the Goldfield Hotel.

The complaint is a brief document and states that Jesse R. Grant and Elizabeth Chapman Grant were married at San Francisco on September 21, 1880; that there are two children, a son and daughter, both of full legal age, and that there is no community property. The ground on which divorce is asked is simple desertion.

Grant's daughter was recently married at San Francisco to an officer of the navy. He left Goldfield today and is expected to be away several days.

FRESNO SHOWS BIG GAIN

FRESNO, July 24.—The assessable value of Fresno county property is placed at $82,439,902 by Assessor G. F. Cummings, who has turned over the assessment rolls to the board of supervisors.

This is an increase of $12,000,000 over last year. The assessable value of Fresno city is placed at $56,709,419.

OROVILLE SENDS OUT FIRST TOKAY GRAPES

OROVILLE, Cal., July 24.—The first Tokay grapes of the season were sent east yesterday by J. H. Leggett. The fruit was grown on land that previously had been dredged for gold but later reclaimed to horticulture. This shipment broke last season's record by seven days and the previous state record by over two weeks.

WANT SPECIAL MEETING HELD

La Habra Citizens Had Mass Meeting Last Night on Highway Mix-Up

Ralph Jackson of La Habra, one of the citizens who declare that they want the lower route through the La Habra Valley improved by the state highway, is endeavoring to get the Board of Supervisors to hold a special meeting to reverse indorsement of the upper route.

Last night there was a mass meeting at La Habra, where it is asserted the people are almost unanimous in their sentiment in favor of the lower road and directly opposed to any bonding proposition. The supervisors indorsed the upper route and the bonding plan on the information given by a committee, said to have been self-appointed, that the people of La Habra wanted the matter settled that way.

The La Habra people think it is not too late to get the State Highway Commission to again route the state highway by the lower.

LARGE ACREAGE RESTORED TO THE PUBLIC DOMAIN

Six million acres of withdrawn public lands were restored to entry during the months of May and June upon approval by the Secretary of the Interior of the recommendations of the United States Geological Survey. This action was the result of examination and classification of the lands by the survey, those restored either having been found not to be valuable for power sites, reservoirs, coal, phosphate, or potash deposits, or having been definitely valued as coal lands, and rendered available for purchase under the coal-land law.

Of these lands relieved from coal withdrawal nearly 2 1/2 million acres were in the state of Colorado. Five and a half thousand acres were also withdrawn in Colorado as water-power sites.

In Idaho, 1,100,000 acres of coal land and phosphate withdrawals were classified and restored, and for water-power sites approximately 10,000 acres were withdrawn and about the same acreage restored.

In Montana 250,000 acres were restored as being non-coal-bearing and about 1000 acres as not valuable for water-power sites, while about 150 acres were withdrawn for that purpose.

In North Dakota nearly 1,400,000 acres in coal withdrawal were classified and restored.

In Oregon approximately 75,000 acres were restored as non-coal-bearing lands and about 12,000 acres were withdrawn for water-power or reservoir sites.

In South Dakota over 330,000 acres were relieved from the coal withdrawal.

In Utah about 1500 acres were withdrawn for water-power sites.

In Wyoming over 47,000 acres of coal withdrawals were reopened to entry and purchase; approximately 6,000 acres were withdrawn for classification as to whether they are oil-bearing lands, and about 304,000 acres were restored as non-phosphate lands.

For all states the total withdrawals during the months of May and June were over 116,000 acres, and the total restorations were over 6,000,000 acres.

The total outstanding withdrawals on July 1 in all the public-land states amounted to 68,609,289 acres, of which more than 58 million acres are in coal-land withdrawals.

These lands are held pending classification by the Geological Survey, and as rapidly as they are found to be mineral bearing they are either valued and placed on sale (as in the case of the coal lands), definitely reserved pending appropriate legislation by Congress to provide for their disposition (as in the case of potash or phosphate lands), or held subject to development under departmental regulations (as in the case of water power or reservoir reservations); or if they are found to be non-mineral in character they are restored to public entry. This work of classification and valuation is being prosecuted by the Geological Survey as rapidly as the appropriations provided by Congress will permit.

POWER PLANT PERMIT ISSUED

Acting Secretary of Agriculture B. T. Galloway issued a permit on July 2 to the Mt. Whitney Power & Electric Company for its Kaweah No. 2 power plant on the Sequoia National Forest. This plant is located on the Kaweah river, and has been in operation since February, 1905. The defective public land surveys in that vicinity have been the cause of delay until this time in putting the plant under formal permit.

Rid Your Children of Worms

You can change fretful, ill-tempered children into healthy, happy youngsters, by ridding them of worms. Tossing, rolling, grinding of teeth, crying out while asleep, accompanied with intense thirst, pain in the stomach and bowels, feverishness and bad breath are symptoms that indicate worms. Kickapoo Worm Killer, a pleasant candy lozenge, expels the worms, regulates the bowels, restores your children to health and happiness. Mrs. J. A. Bishop, of Plain, Ill., says: "I have used Kickapoo Worm Killer for years, and entirely rid my children of worms. I would not be without it." Guaranteed. All druggists, or by mail. Price 25 cents. MEDIUM TOLD HER BOY IS AT WORK IN SAN FRANCISCO

Not putting her faith in spiritualism alone, Mrs. Lydia C. Smith came to Santa Ana today hoping to locate her adopted son, Harold Smith, aged 16, who left his home at 401 Winona avenue, Pasadena, some time ago. Mrs. Smith said this morning that she cannot rest until she knows where the boy, who has been wayward, is located.

A few days ago she went to a medium in Los Angeles and was told that her son is engaged by a San Francisco hotel in unloading trunks from an auto truck. She says she has no faith in spiritualism, but she sent a picture of the boy to the San Francisco police and asked them to search the hotels. As yet she has heard nothing from the police.

She told the medium that if the "tip" resulted in locating the boy she would give $50 to the Spiritualists church fund. She thinks it possible that the boy came here to visit an old friend of his.

Wanted Land and Husband

She could plow and do all the farm work, and if she got land she would get a husband, was the contention of a young woman who applied recently to the land board of Heathcote, Victoria, Australia.

Do Away With That Gasoline Stove

Before It Does Away With You

Buy an $18 Gas Range

We have no fight against the gasoline stove—it answers its purpose where one has no gas main to connect with. But a gasoline stove is dangerous and dirty. It smuts the kitchen with smoke and fills the house with a disagreeable odor when starting it. The smut is everywhere—every time you touch the stove you get smudged. It stays there too—takes a washing powder to get it out of the pores of the skin. Kitchen ceiling—black with smut. And then a gasoline stove is dangerous. The fluid is so clear that you do not realize the drip pan is flooded until the flare comes. You know all this without us telling you, but your chief argument is that gasoline is cheaper than gas. You pay 20 cents a gallon for gasoline and it is still going higher. You buy gasoline in 20 cent lots—you pay gas bills monthly. You think it cheaper because you pay only 20 cents at a time, eight to ten times a month. Eight times twenty cents is no cheaper than $1.60. It takes two minutes to light a gasoline stove, one second to light a gas range. You "run out" of gasoline—your gas is always there. You have no "gas cans" to buy. You have a cleaner, brighter kitchen with gas. You eliminate 95 per cent of the danger of any kind of fire.

Miss Ollie Hunton, daughter of H. O. Hunton of North Shaffer street, who will be one of this season's brides, was honored with a shower given yesterday afternoon by her sister, Miss Jewell Hilton and Miss Florence Payan. It was a pretty pre-nuptial affair, enjoyed by a large gathering of friends of the bride-elect.

Shasta daisies and ferns offered an attractive decorative effect, while a pleasant program occupied the afternoon. Miss Hunton was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

Personal Notes

C. E. Lush and family, with Mrs. M. E. Lush and Mrs. Le Chard, who are spending the summer with them, returned today from a two week's outing at Newport Beach.

E. H. Smith and family enjoyed a trip to Newport Beach today.

PITTSBURG FACES MEAT FAMINE; PRICES SOAR

PITTSBURG, July 24.—Pittsburg faces not only the highest prices, but the most serious meat famine in the city's history. Prices of veal, sirloin, tenderloin, mutton and lamb are from three to six cents higher than at this time last year. Pork has as yet not risen. Shortage of cattle is blamed for the advance in prices.

RIVERSIDE TO BANISH THE ALL-DAY SUCKER

RIVERSIDE, July 24.—The succulent all-day sucker and ice-cream cone, chewing gum and the like are to be placed beyond the reach of local children during school hours, if a city ordinance will cover the conditions.

There was passed yesterday to its second reading by the council an ordinance prohibiting the vending of such commodities on streets or public places within 400 feet of the boundaries of all school grounds in the city. This regulation applies to any school day, and to all hours between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m.

The measure is the result of a petition signed by school teachers and members of the Parent-Teacher Association who maintained that the health of the children is endangered and extravagance encouraged by the temptations placed before them by itinerant vendors of sweets.

THIS NEGRO'S HEAD TOO MUCH FOR BULLET

SACRAMENTO, July 24.—Ben Peters, a Portuguese negro living at 412 L street, placed the muzzle of a 38-caliber revolver to his right ear in his room yesterday afternoon and fired. Still, Peters will live.

When Patrolman Maloney arrived, a few minutes after the shooting, Peters was seated on his bed, calmly trying to move the cylinder of the weapon so he might fire another shot.

MAY ESTABLISH RANGE

PASADENA, July 24.—If a rumor that reached Pasadena yesterday turns out to be true, a state national guard rifle range will probably soon be established where the Pasadena range now is, in La Canada Valley, and the practice shooting of all companies in Southern California be carried on there. A report that such a project is under consideration reached Capt. S. H. Hunt of Company I, this city, yesterday.

DISGRACE KILLED HER

SAN BERNARDINO, July 24.—Too weak to withstand the disgrace of her daughter being involved in the white slavery case in which Jim Chang, a local Chinese restaurant man, was arrested yesterday, Mrs. Lena Pratt died this morning. She had been ill for some days and when the news that her daughter had been found in the Oriental's apartments was told her, she rapidly sank to her death.

PRODUCTION OF GOOD ROADS MATERIAL STEADILY INCREASING

Until recently the popular idea of asphalt represented the solid material found in certain veins in Utah, or obtained from the shores of the Dead Sea, or from the asphalt lake in the Island of Trinidad, the material being used for asphalt varnish or for street pavement.

Within the last few years, however, the asphalt trade has been dominated by a steadily increasing extent by a different variety of asphalt obtained by boiling down the heavy petroleum found in California and in the region of the Gulf of Mexico to a semisolid material which has found wide use for roofing purposes and as a binder in modern road construction. A total of 333,213 short tons of this oil asphalt was made in 1912 and had a value at the points of production of $3,534,977. This is a gain of 33.7 per cent over 1911, and is nearly three times as much as the output of all other kinds of asphalt taken together, as shown in the annual report by David T. Day, of the United States Geological Survey, published as an advance chapter from Mineral Resources for 1912.

Asphaltic oils differ very widely in the proportion of asphalt contained, ranging from oils having no asphalt to very viscous oils which are suitable for road material with practically no refining. Such natural liquid asphalt is known in many localities, especially near Lander, Wyo. It has not yet come into popular use, as asphalt residues of exactly the required consistency may be obtained more cheaply by boiling down the thinner asphaltic oils characteristic of many regions in Texas, California, and Mexico.

Oils Rich in Asphalt
The proportion of asphalt contained in the asphaltic oils of California, Texas, and Oklahoma varies within wide limits. The oils of the Coalinga district, California, vary from 1.89 to 57.42 per cent.

In the Kern river field there is a variation between 16.2 and 38.7 per cent. In the Sunset-Midway-McKittrick region the variation ranges from 11 to 51 per cent, in the Los Angeles field from 13.3 to 42.2 per cent, and in the Santa Maria field from 12 to 42 per cent. In Texas and Louisiana, the asphaltic oils, which are limited practically to the region of the Gulf coast, show variations from no asphalt to a maximum of 20 per cent.

Domestic Asphalt Industry Expanding
It is evident from the figures of production of asphalt in California that the industry is expanding rapidly. This expansion is easy, because of the practically unlimited amount of asphalt which can be separated from the crude oils, especially from the heavier grades. During the latter part of 1912 the Standard Oil Co. of California ceased making contracts for crude petroleum below 18 deg. B. This forced the producers to "top" the product, obtaining large amounts of asphaltic residues. These they sold partly for fuel and partly for asphalt. The heavy oils of the Kern River field required comparatively slight topping to leave an asphaltic residue which was well suited for road and roofing asphalt.

Under the conditions it has proved possible to push the sale of California asphalt to great distances. In fact, early in 1913 the American ship Manga Reva sailed for New York with a cargo of 3,500 tons of California oil asphalt in open headed barrels. This was her second voyage with such a cargo. The trade thus begun is expected to increase greatly on the opening of the Panama canal.

SECRETARY DANIELS SHOWN BEAUTIES OF THE SOUTHLAND

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—For hours last night Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, the guest of Los Angeles, was told in formal speech and friendly conversation of the advantages Los Angeles harbor offers over and above those enjoyed by her sister cities of the Pacific coast. Today he is being given the opportunity to see that harbor, to compare the described with the description.

He has viewed the other great harbors of the Pacific coast during the last few days. He has come to Los Angeles last of all. What he heard last night and what he is seeing today cannot but leave an impression on his consciousness, to remain long after he has left the sunny southland, a strong sense of appreciation for the greatness of this wonderful port.

Secretary Daniels' first introduction to Los Angeles harbor and Los Angeles citizenry late yesterday afternoon was by far the most imposing and auspicious any living man has received. His reception in the city proper and his entertainment last night at the hands of the Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Press Club themselves set a highwater mark for such affairs.

It was amid the booming of saluting cannon on warship and pleasure and commercial craft, the joy-crazy shrieking of whistles and deep-toned sirens and the shouts and cries of thousands of spectators that he made the passage from the open sea to the landing stage at San Pedro, past the miles of docks constructed or under construction, in the outer harbor.

From the moment the yacht Venetia, on which he had made the trip from San Diego over a summer sea that bore but the faintest tract of a ripple to show the presence of a gentle Pacific breeze, dropped her anchor in the outer harbor, until the last "good night" was said at the Press Club banquet he was made to feel about him the soft, warm spirit of the southland—the spirit of welcome.

The Venetia was conveyed to this port by the cruiser South Dakota. When the secretary left the yacht it was to board the cruiser, there to meet the members of the Chamber of Commerce's reception committee. Soon he was speeding with his well-comers to the humanity-blackened shore of the harbor in a government launch.

Following the taking of a light supper at the Alexandria hotel in the company of his wife and the members of his party, Secretary Daniels hurried to Shrine Auditorium. There, before thousands of the southland's most representative men, he told of his coming to this city as a student—"going to school," he termed it.

He told of his ignorance of naval affairs as regards the equipment of the nation and the navy with reference to harbors, coast fortifications, etc., but assured his hearers that as was preparing himself speedily to do justice to the heavy responsibilities the secretaryship of the navy has put upon him.

After receiving a great ovation from the assembled host of members of the Chamber of Commerce and their friends from far and wide, Secretary Daniels was rushed away to the Alexandria to be the guest of honor at the Press Club banquet. There, made to believe for a moment by means of cleverly painted canvases that he was on board a great vessel on a troubled sea in the company of fellow newsmen, he dropped from his shoulders the cares his position places on him.

Praises Southern Waters

In a statement shortly after his arrival the Secretary praised the waters between San Diego and Los Angeles as ideal for naval training, and announced that the Pacific will shortly know the navy of the United States as well as the Atlantic. He said:

"The water of the Pacific ocean between San Diego and Los Angeles is so smooth that it is admirable for the uses of the navy as a training ground for sailors and marines. It is an ideal practice ground both for the young sailors and for the gunners of the navy."

"With the opening of the Panama canal you will see more of the ships of the navy on this coast. In fact, you will within the next year see as many of them or more of them here than there will be on the Atlantic coast."

"You have a very beautiful outlook here for your harbor, but I will not in any way discuss that until I have an opportunity to go over it thoroughly, as I will do tomorrow. I expect to visit the entire harbor zone,

I want to see the site of the fortifications and to see what has been done and what is being done, but I must positively decline to make any statements concerning it or voice any opinions until I have made a study of it."

OFFICE'S BUSINESS INCREASED RAPIDLY

When the new county government bill goes into effect next month the sheriff's office will be given some of the relief in the way of additional help that it has long needed. Sheriff Rudock estimates that there are about three times as many arrests made now as there were in 1910, and that sixty per cent of those arrested are Mexicans.

The number of prisoners in the county jail in 1911 was 500; in 1912, it was 643, and so far in 1913 the total is 843. In 1911 9 were sent to state's prison from this county; in 1912 the number was 28, and this year 23. The number of persons committed to the asylum at Patton in 1911 was 4; in 1912 it was 11, and so far this year 44. The number of sentences to the county jail in 1911 was 1,239; in 1912 the number was 416, and in 1913 so far, 343.

WILL TAKE OFF THE CURSE

One beneficent effect of Progressive success that is not so much observable on the Pacific Coast as it is in the Mississippi Valley and in the East is brought out by Colonel George W. Murphy, the Progressive candidate for the governorship of Arkansas. In his speech accepting the nomination he hailed the Progressive party as the only means of removing the curse of sectionalism which has afflicted the country for the last half century.

"Sectionalism has given us a terrible scourging in the past," he said, "and will not fail to scourge us in the future, unless we destroy it from the face of the earth." And how may it be thus destroyed? Only by retiring forever the old parties that have fostered it. It is bootless for them to say they are not infected with it, or that their political motives and conduct are not characterized by it; for, at every presidential election of the last fifty years, the Democrats have counted with confidence on the solid electoral vote of the South, while the Republicans have counted with equal confidence on the practically solid vote of the North; and both would continue to do so, had not our new Progressive party come to disturb their equanimity."

WALKING

According to the Los Angeles Times a Los Angeles clubman, going to his physician for a general examination and advice, got no prescription but a pedometer which registered the number of miles he walked daily. The machine was interesting and so tantalizing that it soon hypnotized its possessor into walking more and more miles to count how many days it took him to reach one hundred miles, at which point the instrument had to be turned back to zero. The walking was fun and the pedometer was the tantalizer. But quite incidentally the physical ailments from which the patient suffered disappeared and were forgotten and he even recovered the slender form and agile step of youth.

Probably most people would prefer not to be intimidated by a pedometer. But the walking cure would be one of the most valuable fads which could be cultivated. Probably the chief good in the popularity of the game of golf is the fact that it makes men walk who would otherwise ride in automobiles. It is a fine, gentlemanly game for sedentary men who have not gumption enough to play anything more active. But walking to get somewhere and see something is more fun than walking to pound a ball into a hole and you are likely to walk a great many more miles. The universality of the street car, the bicycle, and the automobile is tending to develop the legless man. About the only sort of men who can walk are soldiers and mail carriers. It is an art which ought not to be lost and if men would have the courage to seek their pleasure in walking and to devote some of their leisure to it, as their grandfathers did, there would be more health and more pleasure and less worry in the world.—Fresno Republican.

French Society Improving

The latest fad in Paris, it is said, is to play cards in the boxes during a grand opera performance. This is not half so annoying as the habit some persons have of whistling or singing grand opera or other airs during a game of cards.

BETTER LAWMAKING

From the Fresno Republican.

Elihu Root has an article in the North American Review objecting to the initiative and referendum because, he says, they have their origin in distrust of legislatures, and that their effect will be still further to degenerate the quality of these bodies. Legislatures are already so far tied up with complex constitutional limitations that most of their functions are gone and most of the reasons why any man of capacity would care to be a member of the legislature have disappeared. If the people, by direct action, take away the few remaining functions of the legislative body there will be no reason why anybody fit to be a legislator should consent to do so and the degradation of American legislatures will be complete.

This in effect is Senator Root's argument. The trouble with it is that it stands the test neither of practice nor of theory. In the referendum states no such degradation of legislative dignity has taken place. In California, for instance, the two legislatures, the one of which proposed the referendum amendment and the other of which acted under it, have been the two best legislatures California ever saw. They were the best organized and the most efficient, their membership was of the highest individual quality, and they received more respect from the public than all of their predecessors combined. For the first time in the history of California, membership in the legislature is an honor to which large men aspire without sacrifice and from which they return with pride. This is the lesson of experience in California and to a considerable degree the same thing is true of other states.

The argument of Senator Root is as little conclusive in principle as it is correct in practice. It is indeed true that the complex constitutional limitations imposed upon American legislatures constitute one of the chief reasons for the decrease in quality and dignity of those offices. But it is not true that the initiative and referendum increases these evils. On the contrary, they present the only possibility of remedying it. Legitimate constitutional limitations on legislatures were devised to protect the people against the arbitrary action which may sometimes be expected of even good men when given irresponsible powers. The additional useless and burdensome limitations in some states like California are the outcome of distrust of legislatures and they have to a considerable extent justified that distrust by multiplying the very evil against which they were directed. But with the referendum these restrictions become no longer necessary. It is perfectly safe to unbind the hands of the legislature and to confer on the legislature the powers necessary to efficiency. These powers, under the sense of responsibility engendered by great authority, will rarely be abused. Whenever they are, the referendum provides an instant remedy. No legislature can impose on the people any law to which any considerable minority is opposed if that minority cares enough to appeal to the whole people. No class legislation can be passed against any class without its right of appeal. No class legislation can be passed by or for any class unless it can convince the other classes of its right. It thus becomes possible to simplify conditions and to increase the powers of the legislatures. This has been done in some states and the referendum opens the way to doing it in all states.

When the present evolution of the referendum system is complete it will be found that the legislatures have far more efficiency than they have had before and that the people will nevertheless refer to them far fewer propositions than the automatic operation of the old system compelled. We shall cure too much democracy with more democracy, too much referendum with more referendum, and the lack of authority in legislatures by leaving them no final authority. This is a paradoxical conclusion, but it is in line with logic and evolution.

TARIFF AND CURRENCY BILLS

Special Washington Correspondence.

The Wilson-Underwood tariff bill is about to be taken up by the Senate for detailed consideration and passage. There is no doubt as to the final vote. The chief question that arises is as to the time when that vote will be taken. Consideration of that question involves a psychological study of Woodrow Wilson, and that is the principal thing which is now occupying many senators, both Republican and Democrat. There has been a curious lapse of interest in the tariff bill throughout the country during the last few weeks. Various explanations are offered for this. One is that the country, being satisfied that the bill is a substantial revision downward, has approved it on faith and is going about its regular business patiently awaiting the final enactment of the measure.

From the Republican side of the Senate, there comes a different opinion, however. The Republicans are, of course, keenly interested in having the bill prove itself to be a breeder of calamity. It is vital to the hope of the standpaters to have commercial upheaval and business disaster follow the enactment of a tariff bill. Standpaters in the Senate and House and their scattered adherents about the country have been predicting distress as assiduously as possible, but somehow or other their predictions have failed to excite the country appreciably. The explanation of this failure now given on the Republican side of the Senate is that President Wilson has outwitted the calamity howlers. Some Republicans say that the President has been extremely shrewd in distracting attention from the tariff bill, both by his insistence upon the immediate enactment of a currency bill and by his special lobby investigation.

These Republicans credit the President with playing on the psychology of the country. They say he understands very well that the thought of fear breeds fear; that the suggestion of the possibility of commercial distress increases the likelihood of that misfortune; that warning talk of the danger of panic heightens the probability of panic. Because of his understanding of these facts, they credit or effect to credit, the President with deliberately seeking to distract attention from the tariff bill.

Whether deliberate or not, the President unquestionably has been successful in this line. It is not so certain, however, that the substitution of the currency bill for the tariff bill as the center of interest has tended to allay fear of disturbance. There is plenty of evidence that the business interests of the country are much more alarmed about the currency bill than they ever have been about the low tariff measure.

Ample manifestation of this alarm has been made to both houses of Congress from all parts of the country. The result is a vigorous last-ditch determination on the part of the Republicans in the Senate that there shall be no currency legislation at this session. For that reason, they have made no effort to reach the lingering consideration of the tariff bill by the dallying Democrats. The Republicans recognize the fact that the tariff is a much easier measure on which to prevent prompt action than the currency. The standpaters have had so much practice in talking tariff that debate on the Wilson-Underwood bill can be made almost limitless, if they desire to do so. Some of them are frankly avowing a determination not to permit the tariff bill to reach a final vote until such time as they have authentic assurance from the White House that the President will not insist upon the enactment of his currency measure at this session.

GETTING AT THE HEART OF RAILROAD WAGES TROUBLE

The keynote of Progressivism was struck by Representative Murdock of Kansas, the floor leader of the Progressives in the house, in the debate on July 15th on the amendments to the Erdman Act designed to afford a means of settlement of the controversy between the brotherhoods of trainmen and fifty-four eastern railroads on which a strike involving some 50,000 men was imminent. These amendments had been pending for a long time. They had passed the senate. But it was impossible to secure action by the dawdling Democratic house until this threatened strike presented such an acute emergency that action became imperative in the interest of the whole country. President Wilson then lent his powerful influence and, at a conference at the White House, it was agreed that the Democrats in the house should cease their hickering over individual differences of opinion and for once get down to business.

The debate in the house is a fine illustration of the way in which the reactionaries, both Democrats and Republicans alike, are accustomed to play politics with this sort of question. It was only the Progressives, Mr. Murdock and Mr. Kelly, who went beyond the ephemeral and incidental question and spoke of the fundamental problem. Mr. Murdock spoke for only five minutes but what he said is worthy of the consideration of the whole country. His speech in full follows:

"I think that nearly all men will commend the dispatch and the determination in the conduct of this measure which has characterized President Wilson's course. I favor this attempt to extend the arbitration measure because I believe that it will bring peace in this particular industrial line, at least temporary peace.

"But the situation, as I see it, and of which this is indicative, presents a distressing problem that no such compromise will permanently cure. Take this present situation, for example, and consider the case in hand. The railway trainmen were about to strike for higher wages. They are actually face to face with the problem of living. That is the fact of the business. All of us here know from personal observation the trainmen of this country. We all know that they are men of education and of high skill, as a rule, and of discriminating mind by reason of their occupation and training. They are not moved and they have not been moved by whim or caprice in this matter. They are not inspired by any latter-day class consciousness against capital. These men are not warring upon the railroad managements of this country. They are not quarreling with their bread and butter for the mere love of controversy. They are not fighting for the maintenance of some theory involving their rights, but they are face to face with the increasing hardship due to the high cost and the modern standards of living.

"It is a problem not only with the railway trainmen, but it is problem also with all the wage-earners of the country, and it is increasing in acuteness every day. There has not been a day in the last twenty years, or an hour or a minute, when the control of those who fix the standards and cost of living, when the control of those who determine the shelter and clothing and food of the people—there has not been a day or an hour or a minute in the last twenty years when that control has not narrowed. And there has not been a day or an hour or a minute in the last twenty years when the consumers in this country, despite all the protestations of the politicians, despite all the laws that are passed, have not been losing ground. It is a serious problem with the trainmen and with all breadwinners in the country.

"We are busy here in a very unusual way today to pass this meritorious measure, putting it through under what is virtually a cloture, and with warrant. We do it because it is exigent and pressing.

"But the great fundamentals which are sapping at the vitality of this nation we do not touch. We are handling only one side of the railroad problem. What about the other side of the problem, What about the waste in speculative financing? What about the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the railroad situation in New England made with in the hour? It is a report which shows that the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad has been guilty of wanton waste; that it paid in one instance, in the purchase of the Rhode Island trolleys, $12,000,000 for nothing; that it paid in another instance, in the Westchester road case, $12,000,000 more than the road's value.

"Who will pay for the waste? Who will make good this sort of thing in railroad speculation? Why, the people make it good, and with them these railway trainmen who threaten to strike.

"I say to the gentlemen that a member of congress, with his $7,500 a year, is apt to get rather far away from the real problems of life. These men who threaten to strike are regarded by many as well paid. The trainmen are superior in skill and in intellect. They do not regard their pay as adequate. And when the matter of their bread and butter came up before them—and this ought to challenge the thought of every man within the sound of my voice—the vote for the strike was almost unanimous.

"I say to you as fellow legislators that I believe that the day of paltering and of postponement is passing in this country. I believe the day of compromise is almost gone. I believe that this body and the executive branch of this government have got to get down to business and reach into the heart of this thing and correct the fundamental wrongs and find the real remedy, and when that is done, there will be precious little use for this act."

The Farmyard

The players must all arrange themselves in a circle. The leader then tells them that he is about to give each the name of some animal, and that when he drops the handkerchief which he is holding in his hand, he wants them all to make the cry of the animal which they are supposed to represent. He then goes 'round the circle and whispers to every player except one, the injunction to "remain silent." To the business and ready he whispers, "The donkey." This being done, he takes up his position in the center of the circle, and holding the handkerchief aloft, says, "Now then, are you ready? All together," and drops the handkerchief. For half a second there is dead silence, which is broken by the voice of the victim being uplifted in a deep stentorian "bray."

Bullets to Set Balloons on Fire

Tests have been made in Germany with a special projectile which is intended to repel dirigibles and which is designed not only to pierce a gas envelope, but also to set fire to the gas. This projectile, fired from the old German rifle known as "model 71," which has a caliber of 11 millimeters, is provided with little wings that open in flight under the influence of a spring compressed while the projectile is still in the rifle barrel, but expanded as soon as the muzzle is passed.

An ordinary bullet leaves such a small hole in an envelope that the gas escapes through it but slowly. The wings on the improved bullet tear a hole of appreciable size in the fabric. What is more they retard the bullet sufficiently to ignite fulminate contained in the bullet. It is said that experiments conducted at Neumanswald gave encouraging results.—Scientific American.

NEW WAY TO CAN FRUIT

Following is a little article entitled "A New Way to Can Fruit," taken from the August Woman's Home Companion:

"Within the past year I have become greatly interested in the practical bulletins sent out by the Department of Agriculture. The one which has been of most value in discovering to me a new way of performing an age-old duty is Farmers' Bulletin No. 203, on 'Canned Fruit, Preserves, and Jellies,' by Miss Maria Parloa. It tells how to can fruit by cooking it in the oven.

"This method has in its favor the following points: (1) It is quick and easy; (2) the fruit remains whole, and is exceptionally beautiful in form and color; (3) the goodness remains in the fruit, and the syrup is not too rich.

"The jars are sterilized by boiling them for fifteen minutes. Into them, while still hot, the clean fruit is packed, and over the fruit a boiling syrup is poured.

"For a given and actual amount of cleaned fruit allow half as much sugar, and the same amount of water as sugar, to make the syrup. For instance, if when your strawberries are hulled and picked over you have twelve full quarts of fruit, by measure, then make a syrup of six quarts of sugar and six quarts of water. The water may be poured on the sugar either hot or cold, and it should be stirred until the sugar is thoroughly dissolved. Boil for about fifteen minutes. It is a safe rule to be sure to make plenty of syrup of these proportions; for if any is left, it may be sealed up and used with the next batch of fruit, or it may be boiled down and eaten with pancakes. The syrup may be made on the day before the canning and be reheated while the jars are sterilizing.

"I purchased at a hardware store for 35 cents a piece of asbestos cut so that it exactly fits the oven floor of my range. This I slip in just before I begin to fill my jars. When the jars are filled with the fruit and syrup has been poured in up to the neck of the jar, I set them into the oven, which is fairly hot, not covered and not touching each other. The oven is then closed, and they are left in for ten minutes, or until the fruit is soft. The jars are then removed, and, if not full, filled to the brim with boiling syrup and sealed in the usual way."

Once Again

The Mexican war is raging;

They are making lots of fuss,

But here in Santa Ana

We get into no such fuss.

We take our own good pleasure
On motor and on bike,
While the even more "good luckers"
Have autos in which to hike.

Since at last we are going to have
Good roads on which to spin,
The old bike, so long in the dark,
Is bound to get out and win.

And if you should happen to want a wheel
That you know will take you through,

Just get a "Chief" of Gerwing.

And your bargain you'll never rue.

SOCIETY

Beardsley-Guest

Raymond Eugene Beardsley, of Garden Grove, and Hattie Evelyn Guest of Anaheim, were married at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Pettit, Anaheim, at 10:30 a. m. yesterday, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. W. L. C. Samson of Santa Ana. The ring ceremony was used. The home was decorated in carnations and ferns. After congratulations the company was seated for a sumptuous dinner.

The centerpiece at the table was a unique representation of a ship starting on the voyage of life. After a trip to Catalina, Mr. and Mrs. Beardsley will be at home in Garden Grove. The happy couple were remembered with useful and beautiful presents by their friends.

In addition to the above mentioned persons the following guests were present: Mr. Wm. Guest of Detroit, Mich., who came on for the wedding, surprising his sister; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Shearley and Master Edwin Davis of Anaheim, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Beardsley, the father and mother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Beardsley, all of Garden Grove.

Will Camp at Bear Lake

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Austin, and daughter Helen, and niece, Miss Morse, of Seattle, leave Friday for the L. S. Ranch at Bear Lake, Mr. Austin's friends, the Coulturists, of Whittier, are on the way, and these two parties will establish camp. Harry Hansen, wife and little son, go the last of this week. Sheriff Riddick and party will go also in a few days. The Santa Anas are anticipating a fine trip over the splendid mountain roads in their autos that have been equipped as temporary "camp wagons."

Surprise on Pastor

The members and friends of the Spanish Methodist Church last evening planned and carried out successfully a surprise on their pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Gonzales.

The unexpected guests arrived after the prayer service at the church, carrying with them an abundance of ice cream and cake. Games and music were enjoyed by the young people, and at a late hour they departed, leaving for the safe return of Mrs. Gonzales and the children.

Merry Surprise Party

A very jolly surprise party was given last night in honor of the seventeenth birthday of Joe Irvine of 818 E. street. The young man, totally unconscious of the fact that a large number of his school friends had been invited to help him celebrate his birthday, left home to visit a friend and was somewhat overcome after being called home by telephone to find so many of his friends there waiting for him.

Soon the merry young people were engaged in games and in listening to music, both vocal and instrumental. A male quartette composed of Roy Criddle, Homer Holzgrafe, Joe Irvine and Lowell Stevenson, gave several selections.

Later adjournment was taken to French street park, where various outdoor games were played. Then the young people returned to the Irvine home where Mrs. Irvine had delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake prepared for them.

Many beautiful and useful presents were given to the honoree by his guests. Those invited were Ruth Schroeder, Eunice Jones, Irene Swanner, Agnes Randolph, Andrew Pond, Bernice Pond, Violet Campbell, Stoll Anderson, Angie Mansur, Frieda Schroeder, Mabel Wiseman, Lowell Stevenson, Roy Criddle, Louis McCowan, Homer Holzgrafe, Albert Schroeder, Ralph Beale, Harold Ford, Clayton Tillotson, Nellie Irvine, Thelma Price, Stanley Mansur and Paul Irvine.

Held Missionary Tea

The Woman's Missionary Society of the M. E. church, South, gave its regular tea at the home of Mrs. Blakeman, on Ross street, yesterday afternoon.

An entertaining program, consisting of a recitation by Miss Gertha Stem, readings by Miss Eunice Jones and Mrs. McNaught, and selections on the phonograph, caused the time to pass pleasantly. Afterwards, while

ORANGE COUNTY BEACH RESORTS ARE POPULAR

The various Orange county beach resorts from Seal Beach to Laguna beach are enjoying prosperity such as has never been experienced before.

The people from the interior cities, not only of Orange county but of other nearby counties, are becoming more and more delighted with these resorts as they are becoming more and more familiar with the attractions offered.

The beaches in the summer-time, especially during the child-moonlight launch rides, picnics, Mecca for numerous social gatherings such as house parties, moonlight launch rides, picnics on the beach, etc.

The beautiful climate and the exhilarating sea breezes, such as blow only on the Pacific coast, make spending a brief vacation or even a day down by the sea well worth the short trip necessary.

the ladies were engaged in fancy work, a guessing game was introduced, which exercised their powers of deduction and offered an opportunity for mental gymnastics that caused no little amusement.

Mrs. F. O. Daniel, Mrs. James and Mrs. Gray assisted the hostess.

Gave Interesting Talk

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Immanuel Baptist church had the great pleasure of listening to an interesting talk on Porto Rico given by Miss Viola Hill yesterday afternoon in the church. A goodly number were present. After the enjoyable meeting the ladies went to the parsonage where light refreshments were served.

Health Is Much Improved

The many friends of Mrs. M. H. Phillips will be glad to hear that she is much improved in health by her stay in Keen's Camp. Mrs. Phillips was in very poor health when she left Santa Ana about four months ago but thanks to the high altitude and bracing air of the mountains she has been greatly benefited. Mrs. Phillips will probably remain away six weeks or two months longer.

Tea at Birch Park

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. E. W. Hardy of West Second street was hostess of the Woman's Committee at a tea given in Birch Park in honor of Miss Ruth Coward of Los Angeles. The meeting was opened by Miss Coward reading a play by Upton Sinclair, entitled "The Second Story Man," which was much enjoyed by those present. After this Mrs. Hardy, assisted by her daughter, Miss Sophia served the ladies with home-made cakes, wafers and fruitade.

Miss Coward, who is a member of the Y. P. S. L. of Los Angeles, and an able and well informed lecturer, will speak this evening at K. P. Hall at 7:30. The subject will be "Profit, the Root of All Evil." Everybody will be welcome.

KICKED HIS RIBS, BUMPED HIS HEAD

On Saturday night Sam Johnson knocked down William J. Wickersheim of Fullerton, and is alleged to have kicked him in the ribs a number of times and bumped his head against the sidewalk. Wickersheim is president of the Wickersheim Implement Company. Two young boys named Ketchum, relatives of Johnson, are said to have been smoking cigarettes in Wickersheim's barn and when requested to leave by Mrs. Wickersheim it is charged they swore at her. As there was hay in the barn the owner feared fire. When Wickersheim heard the boys refused to leave the barn he ordered them out, having a whip in his hands, but it is asserted he did not injure them. Wickersheim swore to a complaint against Johnson yesterday afternoon.

A HOME-MADE SUBSTITUTE FOR COFFEE

For more than ten years Mrs. Watry, whose home is at 1236 West Third street, this city, has been making a substitute for coffee for her own family. A number of her friends have also used it for several years past and have found it very satisfactory. She has now installed better appliances for making the same, and is putting it on the market. The claims that are made for this article are:

1. Everyone who has used it so far pronounces it superior to any similar preparation known to them.

2. It is 50 per cent cheaper than any other.

3. While others require from 15 to 20 minutes' boiling, this is done in one minute. A great saving of time and fuel.

A trial package will make from 30 to 40 cups. Cost, 10 cents. At your grocer's. Directions on each package.

Healing begins that very minute. It is in their practice and recommended by Dr. Allen, of Littleton, Pa., says: "Had eczema on forehead. Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment cured it in two weeks." Guaranteed to relieve or money refunded. All druggists, or by mail. Price 50c. J. F. Feller Chemical Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.—Advertisement.

DELEGATES GATHER FOR CHURCH CONVENTION

LONG BEACH, July 24.—The steady stream of arriving delegates today indicates that the silver anniversary convention of the Christian churches of Southern California, the first session of which formally opens here today, will be by several hundreds the largest gathering of that denomination in twenty-five years.

The convention is expected to bring more than 2000 delegates. It will be in charge of the Christian Women's Board of Missions, over which Miss Annette Newcomer, state superintendent of Kansas, who arrived yesterday, will preside.

Rev. Hugh McClellan, pastor of the First Christian church of San Antonio, will be the principal speaker, assisted by C. C. Chapman, president of the state association; C. C. Smith, M. D. Chubb, James G. Warren and W. G. Conley.

The theme for the silver anniversary banquet Saturday afternoon is "Noblesse Oblige." The speakers will be J. W. Utter, Mrs. Anne Paul Cason, Mrs. Ella P. McConnell, Mrs. W. R. Harper, F. G. Tyrrell, Mrs. Clark Marsh and Hugh McClellan.

Tangley Features New Bill Tonight

Tonight at the Bell Theater, a change of program will be presented, headed by Pearl Tangley, the little witch who has caused so much comment since her opening, Monday by her wonderful prophecies, Brodie and La Pearle will give a musical offering somewhat out of the ordinary. This clever team comes with the best of recommendation from San Francisco, where they finished up the Considine Circuit. New pictures will also be shown, making up a program that for the prices charged is hard to beat. Mrs. Tangley last evening transmitted name after name, answered question after question without the least trouble, and in a marvelous manner. The largest audience of the week was present last evening and there is no question but what capacity will rule during the balance of Mrs. Tangley's engagement. She deserves all the patronage shown her, and it will be some time before such a feature will be shown here again.

TO DISCOURAGE THE RIDING OF BICYCLES ON FLOWER SIDEWALK

Complaints were made yesterday that a large number of bicycle riders were making a practice of riding their bicycles on the sidewalk on South Flower street, and if the officers would come out they could make arrests almost any time. Officers Gilbert and Davenport went to the street, and Miss Alma McNeelys happened to be the first bicyclist who came along. Today she paid $5 to Recorder Willson. The second bicyclist arrested was Dwight Faris. He is to appear before the recorder this afternoon.

PRICE OF TOES IN THIS CASE DROPPED

Jury Upset Preconceived Ideas of Their Value as a Legal Commodity

TESTIMONY WAS ALL ONE-SIDED

Two Santa Ana Residents Expect to Become Citizens
Next November

Yesterday morning toes as a legal commodity may have been worth $12, 500 apiece in the suit of Loren Lord against F. A. Blake, but today the price dropped down to a figure represented only by a string of zeros. Loren Lord asked $25,000 damages because he shot two of his toes off with a gun that belonged to Blake, and while he was at work on Blake's place near Olive. This morning the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the defendant.

The jury testified that he was given the gun by Blake and told to go out and kill pigeons. He said the gun was defective and was accidentally discharged. He lost two toes and his foot was otherwise injured. Attorney People of Los Angeles brought the suit for the boy and tried the case.

After he had put on his testimony, Attorney R. Y. Williams was willing to leave the case to the jury without argument. Blake and his wife testified that they had specifically told the boy not to use the shotgun, and that the boy took it without their knowledge. Dr. Domann of Orange testified that while he was dressing the wound, foot Blake came into the room and the injured boy said: "Oh, Mr. Blake, don't scold me because I took the gun after you told me to leave it alone."

Miss Susan Weithrecht of Orange testified that she heard the boy say that Blake was not at fault, that the boy took the gun without permission.

The jury was out this morning just long enough to take one ballot, and the verdict was for the defendant.

On the jury trying the case were chosen H. E. Carner, O. H. Maryott, B. T. Beale, Sterling Price, Joseph Nusbaumer, R. P. Selvidge, M. A. Clever, John Heaston, J. F. Dille, J.

A. Evans, R. E. Lewis and A. F. Swift.

The witnesses for the plaintiff were Loren Lord, Mrs. Lizzie Lord, Mary Moyer, L. Thomas, T. Jackson and Doris Thomas. Those for the defense were F. A. and Florence Blake, Dr. A. H. Domann, J. C. Garout, Susan Whitebreck and Elizabeth Braun.

To Be Citizens
Two new citizens are in prospect. On Nov. 3 their petitions for final papers of naturalization will be heard in the superior court of this county. One of them is Daniel Umattum of 1249 West Third street, Santa Ana, born in Germany in 1879, in this country since 1899. W. A. Stafford and R. P. Mitchell are witnesses who have known him five years. The other petitioner is James Harrison Beardmore of 519 East Pine street, a dairyman, born in Canada in 1869 and in this country since 1892. H. E. Smith and P. B. Glover are his witnesses.

HAS FULL SIZED JOB
Jessie Wilson's Fiance Put at Head of New York City Abandonment Bureau

NEW YORK, July 24.—Francis B. Sayre, the finance of Miss Jessie Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, was appointed head of the abandonment bureau today by Acting District Attorney Wasservogel. Mr. Sayre will take charge tomorrow. The young man is deeply interested in the study of social conditions, and this position will give him plenty of opportunity to follow his bent.

"It's a tough job, and you'll hear a lot of domestic troubles," said Joseph O. Skinner, who has been in charge of the bureau, as he gave the books today to Mr. Sayre. "I hope it won't scare you out of getting married," he added with a smile.

"Nothing could do that," laughed Sayre.

The bureau sometimes gets as many as ten cases of abandonment in a day. It will be Sayre's duty to look into every one to learn the name of the husband, his whereabouts, occupation, earning capacity and date of marriage, and the names of the children less than 16 years old.

Warrants Out for Japanese Tobacco Dealers—Los Angeles Man Arrested

This morning Constable Jackson swore to three complaints charging proprietors of Japanese poolrooms in Santa Ana with failing to observe the state law requiring that every dealer in tobacco keep posted at his place of business a copy of the state law concerning the sale of tobacco to minors under 18 years of age. The constable made a round of tobacco dealers' places of business, and in the place owned by Americans that he visited he found that the law was complied with. Not one of the three Japanese dealers in the city had the law posted. The warrants are for R. Yakamoto and T. Tanaka, who run a poolroom on East Fourth, C. Narito and T. Hirooka.

Yesterday a warrant was issued for the arrest of a Jap who was charged with selling tobacco to a 16-year-old boy. The boy said he bought the tobacco from an old Japanese at Yakamoto & Tanaka's poolroom. When he went to the place with the officer he could not find the Jap.

Set for Friday
Frank Nishimura was arrested yesterday on charge of giving no-fund checks to two Mexican employees. Nishimura said he gave the checks expecting to deposit money at the bank to cover them. He had the money in his pocket, but failed to deposit it. Nishimura will be arraigned at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Serious Charge
W. E. Davis, formerly a peddler of vegetables and fruit here and at one time employed in the labor department of the city water works, is in the county jail on a felony charge. His mother-in-law, Mary Haynes, of Los Angeles, swore to the complaint naming her daughter, Ruby Nishimura, aged 15, in connection with the case. Davis was arrested in Los Angeles, where he has lived for several weeks, and was brought here by Deputy Sheriff Dean.

Charges Resistance
City Marshal Porter of Newport Beach has sworn to a complaint charging E. Dickinson with resisting an officer. Porter's side of the affair is that Dickinson interfered when Porter was trying to make an arrest. The defendant has pleaded not guilty and his trial set for July 28. He gave $100 bail.

WILL INSPECT ORANGE COUNTY HIGHWAYS

SAN BERNARDINO, July 24.—J. J. Prendergast, county highway commissioner, has gone to Ontario to confer with W. A. Freeman, another member of the commission. The two commissioners will go to Orange county to look over highway improvements. The commissioners were in Los Angeles conferring with the commissioners in that city several days ago.

Y.M.C.A. LEADERS START FOR CAMP

County Y.M.C.A. Secretary R. J. Hamilton and Nelson Veenachoten journeyed over to the Y.M.C.A. camp site on Catalina Island this morning. They are going to prepare the camp for the leaders' institute which convenes at the grounds tomorrow.

On leaving Mr. Hamilton said that there was room left for two more boys from this county to go with the younger boys' delegation on August 6. This is a very good opportunity for two boys to take advantage of this splendid outing, from which both profit and enjoyment can be obtained.

Everything has been done to make the camp this year the very best that has ever been held by the joint associations of the counties of Orange, San Bernardino and Los Angeles.

The site is one of the best obtainable, being situated in a most enchanting spot on the romantic island. There is an excellent beach for bathing, and all other sports that go to make camp-life attractive can be enjoyed to the fullest.

BRIDGE BEING BUILT NEEDED MORE BRACES

Yesterday a portion of a wooden bridge being constructed across the Santa Ana river on the Myers road southeast of Talbert came near collapsing. However, none of the timbers was broken and only one rod was damaged. The bridge had not been finished, and was not sufficiently braced during construction. Whatever damage there was done will fall on the contractor, S. E. Talbert, and not on the county.

LIVE NEWS GATHERED FROM NEARBY TOWNS

ORANGE

CANNERY MAY BE LOCATED

Orange Man Has Acreage Under Contract and Orders on Hand

Orange News: If satisfactory financial arrangements are completed, a tomato canning factory will be permanently established here this summer.

Last year W. C. Gearhart conducted a small canning factory in temporary quarters, but packed and marketed 1,000 cases of tomatoes of 24 cans each.

This season he negotiated for the old Modern Manufacturing Company building, which is controlled by local trustees representing the local civic bodies. Recognizing that a canning factory is a desirable industry, the trustees were favorable toward granting him the use of the building. Expecting to occupy the building, he contracted for 45 acres of tomatoes, and the necessary packing materials, cans, labels, etc. He also secured orders for between 3,000 and 4,000 cases.

A complication arose, however, which made it inadvisable to put the building to that use. The machinery having been sold to a company known as the Continental Manufacturing Company, that company sought the use of the building for the manufacture of vending machines.

The local civic organizations will be asked to endorse a project for supplying a building suitable for the canning factory, and funds for the purpose are to be raised by public subscription. It is estimated that between $200 and $300 will be needed to put up such a building, the land having been offered by the Almsworth Lumber Company north of its yard.

That the tomato canning factory would be a desirable addition to local industry goes without argument. It would furnish an additional source of income to growers as well as provide employment during the canning season to a number of people. Mr. Gearhart announces that his brands will be "Pride of Orange" and "Old Mission," which in itself constitutes desirable advertising for the community. The factory had a successful season last season and this year it is hoped to expand the business. It is probable that peaches will be canned in season, and marmalade and jellies may be put up.

LITTLE FELLOW'S
HIP WAS SET TODAY

ORANGE, July 23.—Today physicians set the broken hip of the 2-year-old son of Gus Lan Franco of Villa Park. Last Saturday while playing the little fellow pulled a bed-spring over on himself. The nature of the fracture was located by X-ray photographs.

IN SANTA ANA

The Evidence is Supplied by Local Testimony

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Santa Ana, what can it be?

F. L. Sexton, retired farmer, 1129 W. Second street, Santa Ana, Cal., says: "Off and on I was troubled by a dull pain in the small of my back. I thought the complaint was due to disordered kidneys. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills recommended, I tried them. I soon got relief. Another of my family has also had fine results from Doan's Kidney Pills. They relieved her of backache just as quickly as they did me. I haven't had any need of Doan's Kidney Pills since I first used them. I am eighty-four years old and have never had any serious illness. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a great many old soldiers who I have heard complain of backache and kidney trouble. Many have used them on my recommendation. I take pleasure in confirming the public endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

ELECTION SEPT 9

POMONA, July 24.—Forthright of the fact that September 9 is a legal holiday, the city council yesterday selected Admission Day as the date of election on bonds of $75,000 to provide for street improvements and $15,000 for new fire-fighting apparatus.

FULLERTON

NEW WELL ON EMERY LEASE

Standard Gets a Good Producer on Low Land Near Hills

FULLERTON, July 24.—Another well owned by the Standard Oil Company, on what is known as the Emery lease, has been brought in and proves to be by far the best well on the lease. The well flows 3000 barrels a day and some claim even more. The oil tests 24 gravity, which is not quite as good as the other two wells on the same lease. Well No. 2 produces 900 barrels a day, and 28 gravity; and No. 1 produces 300 barrels a day.

The Standard Company has spent thousands of dollars in the southern district without bringing in a single producer until they obtained a lease on eighty acres on the Emery ranch. The company sank wells on all sides of the Coyote Hills and failed to get oil. The new well is 3520 feet deep on what is called low land. It is known as No. 3.

Ptomaine Poisoning

Anaheim Gazette: Mrs. Harry Harris will leave in a few days for Portland, Oregon, where she will visit friends and recuperate from a serious attack of ptomaine poisoning, contracted by partaking of canned shrimps. Mr. Harris also ate of the shrimps, but as he was hurrying to catch a train for Anaheim had time only to swallow a couple of them, just enough to make him violently ill for an hour or two. On his return to Santa Ana later in the evening he went to the theater where he had appointed to meet his wife and found her violently ill. The physicians pronounced her ailment ptomaine poisoning. She is convalescing now and expects to be restored to complete health in the north. On her return Mr. and Mrs. Harris will make their home in Anaheim.

SECOND TRACK
BADLY NEEDED

P. E. Ought to Build One to Handle Increasing Bay Traffic

BALBOA, July 24.—The Balboa "Boosters" held their regular weekly meeting here and among other matters beneficial to the place considered was that of the proposed double-tracking of the Pacific Electric of their lines from Huntington Beach to Balboa, a distance of less than twelve miles, which, if done, would greatly facilitate the handling of the big crowds here this summer, as there has been more or less complaint of insufficient car service, due largely to having only single trackage at this end of the line.

LATEST IN PARIS

PARIS, July 24.—Correspondence by phonograph today is the very latest innovation in business circles here. The record is made on a square of prepared cloth, which can be mailed in an ordinary envelope, and is said to reproduce the voice of the sender with great accuracy. The cost of the complete outfit including the machine for transmitting and receiving and a supply of the cloth squares is from fifty to sixty dollars. Many big business houses have adopted the plan as well as have scores of legal offices. It is argued that it saves the expenses of a stenographer and the time it would take for transcribing the stenographic notes on a typewriter.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

MISTREATMENT
OF INDIANS

Able Speaker at Assembly Gives His Views Upon That Subject

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 24.—"When I stand before the Yuma Indians I am sometimes almost ashamed that I belong to that 'white tribe' which is responsible for their sufferings," was the earnest statement made by Rev. J. A. Crouch at the rally of the Women's Home Missionary Society at the campmeeting here yesterday morning.

The speaker, who is fresh from his church in the Yuma reservation in this state, said that these Indians have never been hostile to the government and were always self-supporting until the government dikes along the Colorado river cut off the overflow from that stream upon which their crops depended.

A year and a half ago the United States allotted ten acres of land to each Indian and opened the rest for settlement by the whites, but the water for irrigation has been furnished only to the latter; it is in reach of less than twenty families of the eight hundred Indians.

Mrs. M. Libby Allen of Des Moines, Iowa, national field secretary of the society, made a stirring plea for every girl in America be given an opportunity to be a good housewife. Story after story of young women in the mountains of the south, in the slums of the cities, and among the colored population who longed in vain for this chance brought tears to the eyes of her audience.

Other speakers of the morning were Miss Nellie Sanborn, superintendent of the Immigrant Home at San Pedro, and Mrs. S. S. Homes of Pasadena, who presented the needs of the Spanish-speaking population of the state.

"Would you like to live in the good old times when men were murdered in the name of religion, when men believed in witchcraft, when slavery was a recognized institution, when women had no opportunities for education?" demanded Rev. F. M. Larkin of Los Angeles in his opening talk of the series on "The Spiritual Doctrine of the Kingdom."

The speaker vigorously attacked the doctrines of the pre-millennialists, especially as they are taught in certain Los Angeles institutions, and asserted that the world is growing yearly more like the kingdom of God. A number of the prominent Methodist women of the conference were here yesterday because of the missionary meeting this morning. Among them were noted Miss Edith M. Huff of University Church, Los Angeles, financial secretary for the society in this conference; Mrs. F. A. Ziegler of Long Beach, president of San Diego district; Mrs. M. M. Northrup of Pasadena, president of Pasadena district; Mrs. P. H. Bobkin of Los Angeles, national vice-president; Mrs. Eddie Hunter of Los Angeles, secretary of periodicals for the conference; and Mrs. M. F. Woodstock of South Pasadena, whose late husband was a charter member of the Southern California Conference, organized in 1875.

WOULD ENTERTAIN
YANKEES WHO GAVE HIM WORST SCARE

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 24.—Capt. C. A. Lyerly, president of the First National Bank of Chattanooga, an ex-Confederate veteran and a hard worker for the success of the 47th National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held in Chattanooga in September, is hunting for a couple of young "Yankee" officers who frightened him most to death down in Mississippi in 1863.

If Capt. Lyerly can locate these young gentlemen, now far past the meridian of life, he proposes to take them to his brownstone front on one of the fashionable thoroughfares of Chattanooga, and feed, house and otherwise entertain them during encampment week, free of all charge. Briefly stated, Capt. Lyerly in 1863 was a mere boy, not considered old enough to go to the front and fight for the south. He was living with his mother at Enterprise, Miss., when Sherman visited that town in 1863 with a hostile army. Young Lyerly had not at the time offered himself up as a target for "Yankee" bullets, but he did so a little later.

Col. Walter Q. Gresham, attached to Sherman's army, had on his staff a couple of young men who were acquainted with two young ladies who were teaching at Enterprise. The young men and the young ladies, as Capt. Lyerly remembers the circumstances, were from Chicago. The young warriors desired to call on the young ladies at their boarding house, to pilot them to the house. The route led through the camp of the hostile enemy, but he was in no sense alarmed, as he had on each side of him two officers of that army.

Reaching the boarding house, however, Lyerly was dismissed with a no way for him to go except through the enemy's camp, and the thought of the dangers that might be set him on such a perilous journey made his teeth chatter and his knees shake. He closed his eyes and chased it through the camp, reaching home left, Capt. Lyerly says, however, that the incident, after full recovery, changed his mind as to the proverbial ferocity of the "Yankee" soldier, and before they left Enterprise he was tame enough to eat out of the hand of a real warrior wearing the blue.

learn the whereabouts of the two young officers who ran him into trouble, and to know if they are coming to the encampment in September. If they are, he wants them as guests at his aforesaid brownstone front on one of Chattanooga's fashionable thorough-

CHICKAMAUGA VETERANS TO RE-UNITE AT CHATTANOOGA

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 23.—During the forty-seventh annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held here September 15-20, a reunion of the survivors of the battle of Chickamauga will be held on Horseshoe summit, or Snodgrass hill, where troops under Generals Thomas and Brannan formed for the purpose of checking the Confederate forces, and where acts of courage and heroism unparalleled in warfare were performed by regiments of both armies.

Col. George W. Steele, governor of the national military home of Indiana, was the ranking officer of the 101st Indiana regiment during the battle of Chickamauga, and it is a matter of history that the 68th and 101st Indiana were the last to leave the field, having been ordered to the relief of the brave General Brannan when he was sorely pressed by the charging confederates on Snodgrass hill.

Col. Steele was requested by the director of publicity of the Chattanooga Encampment Association to write something about this incident, in order to make history clear on the important point. Col. Steele says there can be no doubt that his regiment and the 68th Indiana covered Gen. Brannan's withdrawal from the field; that Gen. Brannan explicitly states that the foregoing regiments were the last to leave Snodgrass hill. Col. Steele says further:

the south end of the Brotherton field to rejoin the brigade, we having been assigned to assist Gen. Palmer in the afternoon of that very disagreeable day. The left of our brigade rested on the Lafayette road in the edge of the woods north of Poe field.

"We held this position until we were ordered to re-form our line, about 3 o'clock, when we were placed on the south side of Kelley field, still facing south; but the troops on our right and left were swung so that it was called a 'bull pen.' We remained in this position until late in the afternoon when we were ordered to break through the Confederate troops that had practically surrounded us. The 101st Indiana was to bring up the rear of our brigade, Gen. Turchin's brigade making the charge, his being the first to get out and ours the last. When we had gotten through the woods on the west of Kelley field we marched uninterruptedly to the head of McFarland gap."

PUBLIC WELFARE EXPOSITION AT VENICE OCTOBER

The Public Welfare Exposition, which will be held next October in Venice, Cal., in connection with the annual meeting of the League of California Municipalities and the state county and municipal health officers, promises to be the largest affair of its kind ever held in the state, if not in the whole country.

One of the principal features of the exposition will be the Pure Food show, which will be conducted under the auspices of the State Board of Health and the direct supervision of Prof. M. E. Jaffe, director of the State Food and Drug Laboratory. Professor Jaffe has prepared a set of rules and regulations which all exhibitors will have to comply with, and no product will be allowed which does not comply also with all the provisions of the federal and state pure food laws.

Heads of families owe it to themselves and their children to know what kind of food is being served at their table. Many are not aware, perhaps, that lots of stuff sold as food is composed of filthy, putrid and decomposed animal matter to which strong chemicals have been added to arrest further decay and disguise the taste. Many of these chemicals are poisons, all of which the federal government has found to be injurious to the human stomach.

Practically all the large manufacturers and dealers in honest goods—that is, those who comply with the strict provisions of the federal and state laws—have agreed to participate, thereby justifying the assumption that the purity of any food product shown at this exposition is open to question.

Those who are planning on a vacation this fall will certainly make no mistake by making a visit to Venice and taking in this exposition. They should go and learn what goods are safe to buy.

The manufacturers of impure goods and impure foods and drugs are criminals in every sense of the word, and the only way to put them out of business is to educate and arouse public sentiment. The exposition opens October 5, and closes October 12. There will be reduced rates on all trains.

PLANNING FORM GOOD ROADS DISTRICT

Two and a Quarter Miles of Highway at Stanton May Be Paved

Anaheim Gazette: Formation of an assessment district in the west country to provide for paving two and a quarter miles of county road passing through Stanton will be a matter to come up for consideration before the taxpayers of this vicinity in the near future. This road runs east and west through the northern limits of the municipality of Stanton, and is included in the strip sought to be segregated by that town, a vote upon which has been called for August 8. Whether this election shall result favorably to segregation, or whether a subsequent election shall decide upon disincorporation, the road will become part of the county highway system, inasmuch as it has been abandoned to the county by the municipality. At $200 per mile this road will cost $20,000. The supervisors are willing to appropriate $10,000 toward this amount from current expense fund, the remaining $10,000 to be raised by a protection district which will contain portions of this city and west side territory.

It is believed the advantages of this paved road at Stanton, which forms a part of the county highway, leading into this city from the west, will so commend themselves to taxpayers that little if any difficulty will be experienced in securing a favorable vote upon raising necessary funds in the protection district.

When the county highway system was mapped some months ago, this highway at Stanton was not included, for the reason that it was included within the municipality. Subsequent developments, however, at Stanton have been such as to cause abandonment of this thoroughfare by that city, and unless a protection district be formed the road will probably remain unpaved. It is the intention of the highway commission to take up the matter of paving this road at the earliest possible opportunity.

Money for paving highways in various parts of the county which are not included in the highway system and which are now moving for that improvement, must be raised by formation of assessment districts, and at least one such district is now under consideration in the Orange and Buena Park neighborhoods. La Habra people are seeking the same in this work of development and will at an early day vote upon raising $35,000 for a paved road more than five miles in length connecting with the state highway. A number of residents in this city and the west country have expressed themselves as being in favor of the proposed assessment district, and it is hoped to begin work upon the thoroughfare before the coming winter's rains.

PERMIT FOR GREAT POWER PROJECT GIVEN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Telegraphic advices have been received by District Forester Duffins that the permit to the Pacific Light & Power Corporation for extensive developments in the San Joaquin drainage has been signed by Secretary of Agriculture Houston.

This project, when complete, will be one of the most noteworthy in the United States. The permit provides for a progressive development including the Big Creek basin reservoir with a capacity of 103,000 acre feet to be impounded by three dams, the construction of powerhouses Nos. 1 to 4, operating under heads of 2091, 1951, 1449, and 478; the construction of a reservoir of 25,000 acre feet capacity on the San Joaquin river, and three steel tower transmission lines to Los Angeles. The construction work will be divided into six different steps so that the capacities of the plants will increase gradually with the load on the system.

The structures in the development are of the highest type of engineering design and construction; the dams are to be of cyclopean concrete; the conduits, which are entirely in tunnel are to be concrete-lined except in solid granite. The powerhouses are to be of the most modern steel and concrete construction. One of the most noteworthy points of the development is the length of transmission—212 miles. This will be made at a voltage of 150,000. The conduits will be aluminum cables supported by suspension type insulators carried on structural steel towers.

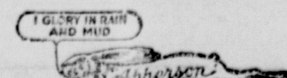

One of the chief uses of power will be to supplant the supply now generated by steam by the Redondo plant of the company, since power can be furnished very much more cheaply from hydro-electric sources.

Not Feeling Just Right? Read This! Do not think that Mr. Jack Mallon of Copeland, Calif., would make this statement, if it were not absolutely true. He says: "I thought I would have to sell my business, for I could hardly stand on my feet and when sitting down could hardly arise on account of pain in my kidneys. I tried three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and they entirely cured me, and I have had no kidney trouble since." Foley Kidney Pills will help any case of kidney or bladder disease not beyond the reach of medicine. Rowley Drug Co. and White Cross Drug Co.—Advertisement.

YUCAIPA VALLEY AS A SUMMER RESORT

It has not heretofore been so advertised, but Yucaipa has such a delightful summer climate that people actually go there to escape from the heat in the lower valleys and enjoy the shade and cool of the nearby canyons. And the green of the magnificent orchards, and the wealth of summer fruits makes it attractive at this season of the year. You ought to see the valley now in all its glory. The improvements and developments go on apace, the finest in Southern California. Truly it is a "Valley of Opportunity." Eleven thousand acres in our tract, all under irrigation. Yucaipa is strictly a high class proposition, in location, in soil, in its irrigation system, in its products, and no expert need. Go with us on a one day trip by rail and automobile and see for yourself the very best proposition in Southern California. We go up every week. Only 64 miles away. Only $3.40. Phone 970 W.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Bellflower apples, the first of the season are in the local market. The first shipment was received yesterday from the North, and the apples met an instant demand at a price of 75 cents per lug box. Several other varieties of early season apples have been in the market for some time, and are meeting a good demand. Practically all of the old apples, with the exception of Roman Beauties and Spitzenbergs, have been cleaned up.

Locally grown cantaloupes are now pouring into the local market in large quantities, and it is believed that within a comparatively short time the supply will be sufficiently great to cause a material reduction in the quotation. At the present time the local cantaloupes, or musk melons, as they may be more properly styled, are being sent to the local produce dealers in two sized crates. The smaller, or regular cantaloupe crates, are being sold to the wholesale trade at $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75, while the larger size, known to the produce dealers as a cabbage crate, is selling at $4.00 and $4.50. Casabas are still demanding a good price, owing to a comparative scarcity.

The tomato market is now quite firm in comparison with a week ago. Good tomatoes are being disposed of at from 20 to 25 cents, while the firm, shipping stock is being quoted at from 40 to 60 cents. Corn and cucumbers, still in good quantity, continue to be quoted at low prices. The receipt of a considerable quantity of egg plant has been responsible for a decline in the quotation. Sweet potatoes are also coming into the market in increased quantities, with a consequent reduction in the price. The same is true of green chili and bell peppers.

NOTICE

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Orange.

The Matter of the Guardianship and Estate of Helen G. Whitney, an insane and incompetent person. To, Helen G. Whitney, and to G. A. Whitney, guardian of the person and estate of said Helen G. Whitney, an insane and incompetent person, and all parties having an interest in said estate. You, and each of you, will please take notice that wherefore Roy Rummels, petitioner, has heretofore filed and presented his petition, and the court has directed for an order of the court directing the said G. A. Whitney for the conveyance of the said property, to-wit:

"All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in the County of Orange, State of California, and bounded and particularly described as follows, to-wit: Block 24 of Fairbank's Subdivision of the southeast 1/4 of lot 18, of a subdivision of the Rancho San Joaquin de Santa Ana and San Joaquin, containing 2 1/2 acres of land, more or less, as shown on map recorded in book 26 at page 48, of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles county, State of California."

Now therefore, you are notified that pursuant to an order of this court, heretofore entered on the 15th day of July, 1912, that Friday, the 15th day of August, 1912, being a regular term of said Superior Court, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the said day, or as soon thereafter as the petition can be heard, in the courtroom of the court house in the City of Santa Ana, County of Orange, State of California, said petition will be heard, when and where all parties interested as creditors, devisees or personal representatives of said Helen G. Whitney, or who appear and show cause why, if any they have or can show, the said prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

Witness my hand and the seal of said court, this 15th day of July, 1912.

W. B. WILLIAMS, County Clerk, Orange County, California.
W. H. THOMAS, Attorney for Petitioner, Opera House Block, Santa Ana, Cal.

WANTED

WANTED. SALESMEN—The Lakeview Tractor Sales, which is about to be placed upon the market, is the famous old Nuevo Rancho, in the Lakeview, Perris Valley. I want one high grade land salesman to work in the territory, representing this property. Many of the farmers in your community appreciate the value of good land, and in this Perris-Lakeview section and this property only needs to be called to their attention, for you to be able to sell the great tract. When you appreciate that good agricultural land, in the Valley of Southern California, about 2 1/2 hours' ride from Los Angeles, can be had for $200.00 an acre, with a good water right, you will realize how unusually attractive this is and how it will benefit the farmer. Also note the wonderful advance in value good farmlands have made in a few years. Understand, this is not land to be sold to the stranger, using the attractive bait of "210 a month." This land is for farmers who know good land and can afford to pay for it, and in offering it at $200.00 an acre, on terms of one-quarter cash, balance in two and three years, we would have been unable to establish this price. If we had resorted to the very low terms of one-quarter cash, the properties are offered. When you realize that the state of Iowa is seventeen times larger than the Valley of Southern California, and that the state of Iowa is only one of forty-eight states in the United States, and that every state is seeking its greatest land salesmen, it is a simple matter to arrive at the future value of good farm land in the Valley of Southern California. The farmer in your community, who can sell out today for $200.00 and $300.00 an acre can go onto our land and realize the same thing in a few years. Understand, I want good, substantial, honest farm land salesmen. Who have a record for fair dealing, and can present a check as such a manner that I will not have to apologize for any of my statements. If you are in this class, please let me hear from you. Write me, telling me your experience has been in giving some reference. James H. H. Wagon, 1600 South Spring St., Los Angeles, California.

TURNVEREIN TURNING TO AMERICAN INSTITUTION

DENVER, Colo., July 23.—That the busy. Many of them have to get out in the fields and do heavy work about the farms and houses while the men are training to be solid soldiers. They don't have much time for turnverins.

The younger members of the turnverins resent the idea held by many that the turner organizations are purely for elderly people. Miss Marie For here, one of the leaders of the St. Louis turner delegation to the turnfest, said: "People shouldn't get the idea that the turnverin is merely for older German people who wish to keep up the customs of their Fatherland. That isn't true. About three-fourths of any women's turnverin ordinarily is made up of young girls with the rest a sprinkling of young married women. The older German women as a rule, usually have very little to do with it. They are bound by the customs of the old country. It is the younger generation, most of whom were born in this country who take the greatest interest. There is no organization like the turnverin to develop, besides physical health, sense of power and independence. You will find that nine German girls out of ten are tall and strong, with good figures, good complexions and bright eyes. That's what being a turner means."

BARGEMEN START REFORM ASSOCIATION

Plan to Abolish Swear Words of the Cult—Members Must Attend Church

LONDON, July 24.—Pledging themselves to "endeavor" not to use any stronger expletives than the Wilsonian "but tut!" the bargemen of the River Swale today met here to organize a brotherhood for the purpose of putting an end to the slur cast upon their characters by the oft-repeated phrases, "the swore like a bargeman." Sixty-seven of these inveterate users of cuss words have already signed the constitution, which also prescribes that every member shall say his prayers at least once a day and shall attend church on Sundays whenever he is able.

"We employed the word 'endeavor' advisedly in framing the pledge," said the Rev. A. B. Perry-Evans, vicar of St. John's, who started the organization, and who is known as the "Bargemen's Bishop," "as swearing has always hitherto been considered an indispensable feature of the bargeman's picturesque vocabulary. The terms he has been in the habit of using to relieve his feelings have meant no more to him than the mild expressions of President Wilson is credited with when he makes a bad stroke at golf, but the practice will doubtless be just as hard to break off. So far no serious violations of the pledge have been reported to me, and new members are constantly joining the brotherhood."

"It's no easy job," remarked one of the charter members, "to change your language all of a sudden. Some of the boys don't dare open their mouths."

COMMISSION FOR HOME TRAVELERS

Congress Will be Asked to Boost "See America First"
Movement

PORTLAND, Ore., July 24.—To keep at home at least a portion of the half billion dollars which, according to government statistics, is being spent annually by Americans seeking health and pleasure in foreign countries, congress and President Wilson will, in the near future, be requested formally to create a National Tourist and Travel Commission as a permanent federal board, the purpose of which will be the advancement of the "See America First" movement.

Plans with this idea in view are being prepared by George L. Hutchin, president of the Festivals Association of the Pacific Coast, an organization made up of the executive officers of the festivals and carnivals held annually by various municipalities of the Pacific Coast. When the plans are perfected they will be put in the form of a memorial to congress and the president pointing out the advantages of such a commission and urging its immediate creation. After the memorial has been presented several congressmen from Pacific Coast states will collaborate on a bill which will be introduced in congress.

The idea of the National Tourist and Travel Commission had its inception at the annual convention of the Festivals Association held recently in Tacoma, Wash. An executive committee has been appointed by President Hutchin to interest the congressional delegations of various states in the movement so that when the memorial and bill are brought before the National Executive board for action it will receive due consideration.

The proposed commission would be empowered to make a thorough investigation of the natural scenic beauties and climatic conditions of every portion of the country, investigate and classify the various winter and summer resorts of the United States and gather all possible data to be placed at the disposal of the traveling public, especially that portion which is accustomed to make annual pilgrimages abroad.

—If seven doctors had told you, as they did C. E. Blanchard of La Grange, Calif., that you had but a short time to live on account of kidney trouble, what would you do? He says: "I had kidney trouble so bad, that I had to go to the hospital. Had seven different doctors, and they said I had but a short time to live. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they completely cured me and I can not speak too highly of them." Cost less than the doctors, but accomplish more. Contain no habit forming drugs. SIMPLICITY GAIOR FOR PRESIDENT AT SUMMER HOME

(By Burton C. Standish)
WINDSOR, Vt., July 23.—President Lincoln studied by candle light and wrote some of his messages to congress by the light of a smoking oil lamp. If, after President Wilson comes here for his vacation, he decides to spend some of his evenings writing his next message to congress, he will have to do it either by oil lamp light or candle light. Which is some return into the dark ages for the president of the United States in these days of aeroplanes, flying boats, gas and electricity. Last night Mrs. Wilson and her daughters ate their evening meal by lamp light. When they give a little party planned for some of the personal friends of the presidential family, there will be oil lamps in the "front room." For there is no gas or electric light at Harlakenden House, the president's summer home.

President Wilson is accredited with love of simplicity in all things. He can humor that liking to the limit when he comes here finally for a much needed rest. The large grounds about the house are well kept up and, with the exception of the lighting proposition Harlakenden House is strictly modern.

Windsor is three miles by New England roads from Cornish, Vt. The natives are not at all flustered over having a president and his family for neighbors. There were quite a few at the station when the president recently visited Mrs. Wilson and his daughters, but they always go to the station to meet the two daily trains. They gave president Wilson a hearty and cordial welcome to their village but that was all. As soon as the train pulled out they went back to their work. When the president accompanied his family to church on Sunday while he was here, the stolid old Vermonters weren't a whit "fussed." They took it as a matter of course that the President of the United States was a church-goer and let it go at that. Many of them casually hung around after church to shake his hand but it was all done in the same way they would greet any other new resident who wasn't a president.

As one native put it, "Mister Wilson is a nice, simple looking man who appears to know his business, and his wife is a mighty fine woman. His daughters appear to be fast girls and Miss Jessie's beau, who was up here visiting when the President was, looks to be considerable of a man." That's the way the natives up here look at it. Down in their heart they are mighty proud of the president's selection of their town as a summer "capital" and there is every evidence that, although some of them voted the Republican or Progressive tickets, they all have been very favorably impressed with President Wilson. But it would be foreign to their natures to be anyone think for a minute that they "are all set up" about having President Wilson for a neighbor.

Everybody who lives here has a list of them and gone ancestors who used to live here themselves. About the newest resident is the soda clerk in the corner drug store—there are two of them here—who is a college man. He blew in about three years ago, got the staying fever, and stuck.

Windsor is in a valley between the foothills of the White Mountains. It is noted for its climate, a great deal of which has been apparent since the president's family got here. The tem-
